Planning Commission Hints at Underpass as Solution of Parking

Preliminary results of the Keystone Automobile Club's survey show a dangerous overload of traffic in the Narberth business section, it was disclosed Tuesday night at the August meeting of the Planning Commission here. The report was made by Clarence H. Woodhington, attending his second meeting as the new secretary. Chairman B. G. Simpson and Walter O'Sullivan were present, with Burgess Frank Schrepper and Solicitor Henry A. Frye sitting in on the session. Members J. J. Cabrey and William H. Durbin were away.

The traffic condition was termed dangerous, especially at train-time. To remedy it and the parking congestion that are working hardships on storekeepers and customers alike, it was decided to ask the WPA to survey from Conway to Grayling and from Windsor to Woodside, with recommendations for improving conditions, traffic and otherwise.

The district includes the Narberth avenue bridge, which is considered dangerous and inadequate. And it includes a location where an underpass is believed desirable to relieve the bridge traffic and facilitate the flow of north and south traffic in general—connecting Haverford avenue and Wynnewood road, under the railroad, somewhere around Essex avenue. A report on this and on another plan of great interest to the business section is expected to be ready by the October meeting of the commission.

Traffic Facts

As Shown by the Keystone Automobile Club's July 18-23 Survey:

The area: Both sides of Haverford avenue between Narberth and Essex avenues; and both sides of Narberth, Forest and Essex avenues between Haverford and Windsor avenues.

Legal parking spaces: 132, in which 623 cars were parked in daytime, although room could be made available in the same 132 spaces for 1320 cars, parking one hour each.

Average day's flow of traffic: 2500 cars moved on Haverford avenue, 1450 on Narberth, 700 on Essex and 630 on Forest, in 10-hour period.

Possibilities for consideration: Prohibit parking on one side of Haverford, restrict that parking to half an hour, develop a parking lot near the business section, and provide rear access to the stores that front on the north side of Haverford avenue between Narberth and Forest.

News of the Students

Recently announced winners of competitive scholarships for the freshman class at Penn include Richard W. Havens, 515 Valley road, Merion; Robert C. Degerberg, 64 Raynham road, Merion, and Mary M. Larney, 723 Braeburn lane, Penn Valley.

Allan Claghorn, 125 Chestnut, Narberth, a science teacher in Flemington H. S., N. J., is attending Cornell this summer.

George Hansell, son of the Montgomery pike garage Hansell Brothers' George Hansell, who teaches German and other subjects at Media High School, is studying German this summer at Heidelberg University, Germany.

Travel at Home!

The Egyptian's latest stunt is an evening of travel, enabling the summering simmering Main Liner to vacation comfortably at home, while enjoying a tour of the Americas.

Showman Joseph Conway has selected the best Fitzpatrick Travel talks, with colorful views and news of New Brunswick and Quebec, Yellowstone National Park and the Rockies and other natural wonders of the West, and a South American tour that features Chili and Peru. Soft music, lights, curtain! . . .

Next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, at 7 and 9 P. M. . . . And theater-goers who wish, may indicate their preference for further tours. . . . all expenses paid. . . . personally conducted. . . . Half way around the world and back, in two hours!

Accidents

Last Saturday in Bryn Mawr Mrs. Elsie Faulkner, of Cynwyd, hit a parked car owned by Mrs. J. C. Wetzel, 305 S. Narberth avenue, sending it over the curb and into a hedge.

Next Wednesday.

Harry Cook, Charles Herbruck, John Herbruck, Roger Johnston, Fred Koebler, Paul Mason, and Herbert Peden are going from the Narberth Presbyterian Church to the Christian camp for boys conducted by Rev. J. C. McConnell at Indian Hill, New Jersey. This camp is planned to give all of the fun of a camp plus a vital training in the principles of Christian faith.

At Long Last

Narberth's Warriors of the Diamond

Are back where most of the fans believe they belong—at the top of the Main Line League standings.

Last week-end the men who labor for George Babb now that Gene Davis is ill, went out and chalked up two tidy victories. The first, a 6-2 decision over Berwyn away, gave the locals possession of first place inasmuch as Gladwyne was surprised by Drexel Hill.

The next day the Narberth array played host to Coatesville and gave the visitors a thorough shellacking to pile up a 17-7 count. This naturally strengthened their hold on the driver's seat.

Narberth will help to make some sort of history tomorrow when it returns to league action. For the first time in twelve years a team representing Ardmore in the league will come here to meet the defending champions. Ardmore recently took over the West Phils' franchise and added other local talent to its team. One of them is Howdy Powell, a Narberth product. Sunday the Davis-men will take to the hilly country again to do battle with Gladwyne. We all know what happened back there when the teams met before and realize that the boroughites will be out for revenge before the Gladwyne fans.

Al Herrmann did the pitching chores for the Babbmen at Berwyn and turned in a nice nine-inning job. He gave up six hits, all singles, while Narberth pounded two Berwyn hurlers for 10. One of the blows was a long homer by Roger Malseed which came with the bases nude in the second. Herrmann fanned five. He was a bit wobbly when he walked four.

Narberth lambasted the offerings of Chet Haupt to all corners of the field as they buried Coatesville. Believe it or not, but the townsmen collected a total of 25 base hits, 18 of which went for extra bases.

Bill Caldwell, new this season, boasted eight hits in twelve official Continued on Page Three Friday, the 5th: Oskar Shumsky, violinist. Elgar's Violin Concerto in B Minor and Brahms' Symphony No. 4 in E Minor.

Saturday, 6th: Tilly Barmath, dramatic soprano, in a Russian program. Saul Caston will conduct for Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4 in F Minor. Miss Barmath was formerly head of the vocal department at Bryn Mawr Conservatory of Music.

Sunday, 7th: Josef Hofmann, of Merion, who is touring the world on his fiftieth anniversary as concert pianist.

Monday and Tuesday, 8th and 9th: Final opera of the season, "Aida."

Thursday, 11th: Gladys Swarthout will sing; the orchestra, conducted by Alfred Wallenstein, will play Beethoven's First and Strauss' Don Juan.

Friday, 12th: Margaret Speaks, radio soprano; the orchestra will play Frank's D-Minor Symphony, Ravel's "Daphnis and Chloe" Suite No. 2, and dances from Borodin's "Prince Igor."

Saturday, 13th: Alvin Rudnitzky, soloist; Tchaikovsky Concerto for violin and orchestra; Sibelius' Valse Triste, Debussy's Fetes, Liszt's Second Hungarian Rhapsody, etc.

Monday, Tuesday, 15th, 16th: Alexander Smallens will conduct an all-Wagner program, with Selma Amsky, soprano, for soloist.

Mrs. Faulkner's 17-months-old baby was treated at Bryn Mawr Hospital for bruises and the mother was charged at Ardmore police station $4 costs for assault and battery by automobile.

Brother of

Harold C. Fenno Dies, Early in Brilliant Career.

Dr. Frederick L. Fenno, a prominent New York and New Orleans psychiatrist, died of a heart attack at his summer home two miles from Covington, La., July 20. Dr. Fenno, who was 43, was medical director of the New Orleans Public Schools and a former president of the Orleans Parish Medical Society. Born in Plainfield, N. J., he was taken to live in New Orleans at the age of two weeks with his grandmother, Mrs. Katherine Chamberlain. He was graduated from the Medical School of Tulane University. He had assumed, the past few days, the position of professor of Neurology at the Louisiana State University. He was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity of Orleans Parish Medical Society; Louisiana State Medical Society, American Medical Association, American College of Physicians and Surgeons, and American Society of Neuro-Psychiatrists. He was a veteran of the World War and lieutenant-colonel in the Medical Reserve Corps.

Dr. Fenno is survived by his wife, Gladys Smith Fenno, and two daughters, Edith and Claudia; an aunt, Miss Gertrude Fenno, of Plainfield, N. J., and a brother, Harold Chamberlain Fenno, of Essex avenue, who went by plane to New Orleans to attend the funeral.

Testimonial

Dinner to Joseph F. McElwee, of Merion.

Was attended Tuesday at Sunnybrook, near Pottstown, by 1200, the largest Democratic dinner gathering in the county's history. They assembled to pay tribute to their new county leader, who, in a brief talk, solicited the co-operation of every Democrat and urged that differences be forgotten.

Mr. McElwee told of plans for raising campaign funds and announced to ballot-producing patronage-seekers: "You don't have to have your name in any blue book to get a position if you produce results."

Representative Hiram Ganser, toastmaster, read telegrams of congratulation from the Governor and other leaders of the party. Greetings from the President were brought by Captain Victor Hunt Harding, executive secretary of the Democratic National Congressional Committee.

School Ends Today

Summer sessions at the Narberth School are over this Friday for the 65 students who attended. First day of the regular fall term will be Tuesday, September 6, according to Principal W. James Drennen. That first day will be a half session, and registration can be made then by new students. To qualify for admission in kindergarten and so on, certificates must be presented, of birth and of vaccination.

Housing Authority

For Montgomery County Has Been Appointed

By Governor Earle, according to announcement by Joseph F. McElwee, Democratic County chairman. Main Line member is Frank M. Adams, of 511 Putnam road, Merion Park, who is Democratic Committeeman of the General Wayne election district. He and Leonard A. Talone, of Conshohocken, and David Fellman, of Souderton, will act as Housing Authority under provisions of new State housing acts passed by the 1937 session of the Legislature.

The movement for appointment of a county housing authority was launched last October at a meeting at headquarters of the Community Health and Civic Association, Ardmore. A report on county-wide housing, presented at that time, cited bad conditions in Lower Merion as well as elsewhere.

Appointment of this authority will enable remedying of existing conditions through construction of low-cost housing projects.

Doll Show

Is Today's Feature at the Playground.

The little ladies are invited to bring their dolls to the show this Friday at 10.30.

All girls who have not reached their 17th birthday are asked to sign up quickly with Alice Cook or at the playground, for the tennis tournament. It will begin as soon as 16 girls have signed. As for those 17 or over, they will compete for the annual tennis cup.

Winners of the first round, men's adult tennis tournament, must be at the playground to complete their second round games before next Wednesday evening, or automatically default. Many more cars are needed to take the children to Shibe Park on Wednesday—or the trip will have to be called off.

Winners of last Thursday's Pet Show, which was judged by Mrs. Thaw and Mrs. Simpson, are Charlotte Crownover—best trained pet (English setter); Mary Butler—best looking (rag terrier); and Margy Murphy—most unusual (painted turtle).

In the boys' junior tennis finals, Mickey Burns defeated Jim Pruitt, 6-4, 6-2.

The children's soap bubble contest was won by Charles Eshleman, who blew an average of 58 bubbles over the string, in four tries of two minutes each. Runners-up were Janice Marcel, 47; Mary Teresa, 35; Selma Breslow, 31, and Helen Eshleman, 31.

This Week

San a Band of Sturdy-Legged Rangers

Plant their first flag of the season on the "top of New England"—old rugged Mount Washington, 6,300 feet in the clouds. The expedition into the rarefied atmospheres took only 2 hours and 45 minutes and marked our twelfth conquest of the peak. It was also one of the swiftest ascents in our record books.

Jack Conway, Ted Friel and Bill Shanklin helped share the palatial lean-to that Junior Herbert and Bill Jones built to ward off the rain that fell at the foot of the mountain the night before.

Howard McConnell and Sandy Whitwell overtook Adrian Smith in the last few yards and gained the summit first, while Bob Mahon and Jack Schofield "pushed" the party of sixteen all the way up from their positions in the rear. Carrell Laird and Bob Boyne, the candid camera addicts, got some fantastic film records of the trip, although a close-up of their picture snatching antics would have made even better fun.

Whereas, the Washington climb was more or less an old habit, another event of the week proved to be a distinct innovation: for the first time in our six-year history our senior ball team mowed down the stars of our pet jinx, Camp Hawthorne.

All month our boys have felt this was their year, and they went "gunning" in earnest for the vexing rivals. The result—a supremely satisfying 6-0 victory, a proud feather in the bonnet of our Pitcher John Stoudt. He came as close as one could come to entering the "no-hit hall of fame," but the honor was whisked away from Continued on Page Four

Three Fires

In a Day Kept Narberth's Firemen Busy

On Monday. In the afternoon they were called to a field fire at Hazelhurst and Baird roads in Merion, but it was out before they were.

Shortly after 7 P. M., Wayne Burnside, of Cynwyd, noticed a car on fire on Windsor avenue in Narberth. It was J. J. Cabrey's and he was in, on his way home. He rushed to his phone and asked the operator for a fireman—"not the whole company; it's just a small fire." Two engines were called out just the same, and after making a false turn to Raymond Cabrey's home in Narbrook Park, eventually made his brother their destination. Ignition trouble; slight damage.

Then came a short circuit in the basement of Herbert S. Clader, 352 Penn road, Wynnewood, and scores of onlookers and the Merion Fire Company of Ardmore joined Narberth's own in braving the rain while the fire siren wailed. Plenty smoke; little damage.

Rain Delayed Paving

Property-owners were given 30 days ending August 15 in which to mend sidewalks; but the recent rains caused some owners and contractors delay. Therefore, says Highway Committee Chairman Walter A. Fox, leniency will be shown in extending the grace period beyond August 15—provided that by the 15th the paving is at least ordered.

Curb Repairs

Are Proceeding Nicely, Says Highway Chairman

Editor Elwood:

With the greatest reluctance to cause Narberth property owners expense and inconvenience, Borough Council ordered sidewalk and curb repairs to be made by August 15 on over 650 properties. Up to July 31, 130 property owners had completed their work and I believe from the activities we observe that most of the others are doing the work this week or have contracted for it.

The manner in which Narberth folks have responded to council's orders is most gratifying. With their customary reasonableness and good nature, citizens have recognized the necessity for putting walks and curbs in order. Not only do they realize that public safety and convenience demand the work, but they are really anxious to enhance the appearance of the Borough and eliminate the "run down" looking conditions which have been so apparent. Of course, there have been some objectors, but very few. Not more than a half dozen have said they feel there is any injustice and are doing the work under protest.

This department has been glad to review any cases where the request was made. In some instances, we found errors because of mistaken property lines; in several cases we found that properly executed repairs could be substituted for entire blocks. A few thirty-day extensions have been granted because of summer absence or because of impending property alterations or transfers. A number have requested the Borough to have the necessary work done.

The Highway Committee wishes to thank everyone concerned for the splendid spirit and co-operation which has been so general. In succeeding years we hope fewer repairs will be needed because of the widespread work this year.

We also want to thank "Our Town" for the service to your readers with the helpful article in last week's issue. Continued on Page Two

by WM. E. FERGUSON

Eighty scouts were awarded a total of 132 merit badges this past week at the campfire of awards by Franklin Brunt and Ralph Murphy, of the Boy Scout Advancement Committee. Raymond Hoxworth, activities director of the Valley Forge Council and field scout executive, gave the congratulatory address. Honored from here:

Merion Troop 2. Stanley Green, Basketball, First Aid; Eric Hoder, Life Saving, Bird Study; Charles Evans, Bird Study; Thomas Perry, First Aid. W. E. Davis, an apiarian, came to camp Wednesday and spoke on the care of bees, showing the scouts how to handle them. Davis had a swarm with him and it was not long before the scouts were playing with the bees as if they were old friends.

Merion Liberty Troop No. 1. Merion Liberty Troop under the leadership of Richard Young, are enjoying a fine week at Camp Delmont. Many of the scouts are attending the Leadership courses. Also there is much work being done on merit badges. Nature, swimming, boating are some of the outdoor activities.

The program provides participation in many contests, such as volleyball, baseball and Indian tracking games.

All scouts, both young and old, participate in the camp's activities. This morning they enjoyed an exciting nature hike; in its many surprises were snakes, trees, flowers.

The scouts attending camp are Robert Watrous, John Mraz, John Voyol, Bill Blake, Ray Cooney and the Manhattan Island scout, Jerry Lane.

Last time Miss Brinton wrote a letter to the editor, it was in opposition to the cannon at the playground. The cannon-firing this summer has a suggestion in lieu of "stooping to hunt cracks in cement pavements".

Dear Editor: As one of the 650 householders of Narberth who are said to have received notice to relay cement sidewalks, I want to register a protest against such wholesale edicts. It is true that a few sidewalks needed draining so that water does not lie in puddles after rains. It is perhaps also true that in some few places ridges had developed—which, if evened out, might make walking easier and the riding of baby carriages smoother. But to require the complete renewal of blocks of paving because of cracks or because the concrete was not in one solid piece is nothing less than silly. I am glad to know that at least twenty-five residents had the independence to voice their objections.

These questions naturally come to mind when one stops to think what such blanket regulations mean. What about brick sidewalks? If cracks are objected to how can the crevices between bricks be permitted? Most of them are much deeper than cement cracks. What about slate paving blocks? They are considered far more artistic and ornamental than concrete, but they are always irregular—that is their great beauty. Does the Highway Committee forbid blocks in preference to the absolute uniformity of cement?

One hesitates to suggest that the regulation is being enforced with anything except complete impartiality but people do think, and talk, too. Is every property owner being pressed with exactly the same rigidity regardless of social, political, or business standing? If so, the amount of paving that must be relaid in the borough of Narberth during the next two weeks is appalling to consider. One needs only to walk a few squares around the center of town to see that. What an enormous waste of energy and money when so many problems face us today! There are too many really serious issues to solve without making people do unnecessary things.

Of Game Were Reported Bagged and Netted

In Pennsylvania in a recent year, according to John A. Miller, president of the Montgomery County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, who addressed the Bala-Cynwyd Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday. He told how sportsmen's clubs' efforts are being rewarded by State-wide measures to conserve wild life and preserve natural resources. The County Federation, with 1400 members, has accomplished much since its formation in '35.

The Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club, of which Mr. Miller was founder president, was organized, August, '33, to accomplish projects such as the stocking of Mill Creek with fish. . . . 860 trout were stocked there this year. The club has 150 members. Mr. Miller, who is a roofer, is Narberth's fire chief.

"William Penn," he said, "intended that his woods should remain one acre woodland for every four acres that were cleared. His intent was violated, until wasteful slaughter nearly decimated our game, 85 per cent of the water in our State was polluted, and our forest areas were being destroyed." But today, thanks to the sportsmen's groups and responsive legislators, the State, he said, is outstanding in the nation for its large and small game, and for its parks and other conservation policies.

Rotary speaker next Tuesday, by courtesy of L. Stanley King, druggist and former president of the club, will tell about "An International Police Force."

A-Fishing

At 4.30 A. M. Sunday, out of Little Creek in the Delaware Bay, went a small party of Lower Merion Rod and Gun Clubsmen. The boat was a 43-footer and the haul, 105 good fish. Richard Moritz with a 2½-pound weakfish won the pool, with George Purring, Bob Weber and Nick Finola as close runners-up.

Masthead or Massed Head?

OUR TOWN's recent use of "Massed Head" has been questioned by a subscriber, supported by the Philadelphia Bulletin, which dogmatically informs us "Webster's New International Dictionary and other dictionaries give the correct spelling of the word in question as 'masthead'."

Here is Time magazine's answer to our query:

"... A number of learned journalist subscribers quoted everybody from Munsey to Benjamin Franklin. But it was a no-decision bout with the two camps still undecided as to whether it should be: 'Massed Head' because it was a headline which was massed together, or 'Masthead' because it was an identification, like a flag flying on the masthead of a ship. 'Just the same, it is a nice point and one which we would like to see settled officially some day.'"

Sidewalk Suggestions—

There is one more very sensible reason for not insisting on crackle cement for paving. Sidewalk trees are the biggest financial asset to any community. Trees cannot grow without water and air. They die when their root systems are trimmed too much and streets and sidewalks are solid and smooth with modern paving materials. The centers of business in most Pennsylvania towns are ugly and barren and uninviting because of just such over-zealousness of local officials. In comparison I refer our Highway Committee to New England villages—rich with attractive trees and shrubbery.

It is true that in material things the borough of Narberth has now reached the point where there is little improving left to do. The proper course then is not to be busy with trivialities, but to devote some time and thought to those things which will make life richer, pleasanter and more beautiful for the whole community. What about drainage? Can anything be done to prevent overflowing of lawns, and washing out of gardens, and flooding of cellars as is regular occurrence in some sections? What about a snow removal program from sidewalks such as the borough enjoyed when we still used horses instead of motor trucks?

Is there a public planning group looking ahead for increased recreation facilities for our growing population? Could we have a public swimming and skating pond? Should ground along Wynnewood road be acquired for a public park? Should a larger building be provided for community theater, for a hobby center, for clubrooms for young men? These are matters that concern the mental, moral, and spiritual development of our citizens and the sum total of community happiness (and business activity!) will be vastly more improved with efforts spent on considerations of these problems than in stooping to hunt cracks in cement pavements.

ELLEN STARR BRINTON.

*Ed. Note—Narberth's Planning Commission (B. G. Simpson, chairman) is examining many things, including, as much as anything else, the willingness of Narberth citizens to spend on behalf of permanent improvements.

At last month's Borough Council meeting, Burgess Schrepfer said that because our better-than-average-income-community will sooner or later have to pay its share of taxes to finance the Federal government's debt, it may just as well share in direct benefits, by asking for WPA funds, both outright and borrowed, for local improvements.

What is it that Narberth wants?

this summer enables the boys to develop sound character traits through the construction of different articles of craftwork. This character building factor trains them in perseverance, the ability to remain at a job until it is completed which is brought about by their interest in the work as a medium of self-expression, whether it be a braided lanyard or a willow basket.

Under the direction of Stanley Klein and Fred Huebner, this work is organized into a suitable program for the troops and for the individual scout himself. In the morning from 8:30 to 9:30, the scouts attend the Handicraft Training Course designed to supply them with ideas and methods for working out an adequate year-round program in handicraft within their respective troops. Upon completion of the course a certificate is awarded them. Here they are instructed in the elements of craft work as related to the various fields of scoutwork: Games, advancement, morale building, the patrol meeting rooms, hiking and camping.

An attempt is made, wherever possible, to instruct the scouts by having them actually work several projects in the related subjects. This they learn through the play way method.

Only Ten States Now Retain January 1 as Last Day for Automobile Licenses

Only ten states now retain January 1 as the final registration date for automobiles, F. E. Ballantyne, general manager of The Automobile Club of Philadelphia, A. A. A., announced Monday.

One of the ten states is Pennsylvania. Although Governor Earle granted a special dispensation until January 15 this year, the official date when new tags must be displayed is January 1. The other states are: Delaware, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island and Washington.

"Unanimously the New Jersey Legislature approved postponement of the registration date from January 1 to April 1. This makes thirty-eight states that either have permanent registration dates later than the first of the year or have laws which permit periods of grace to be granted to motorists," said Mr. Ballantyne.

"The reason for the spring registration dates in most instances is that governing officials feel that motorists are better able to stand the economic strain of registration taxes in the spring than they are in January, when Christmas bills and year-end obligations must be met.

"Today the registration dates of the various states extend all the way from September through July of the following year. In addition to this lack of uniformity, many states follow the practice of granting last-minute extensions of time. The result has been a great deal of confusion and many false arrests of motorists thought to be using dead tags. Even if uniformity could be obtained because of varying conditions in the respective states, there is no good reason why a permanent date cannot be fixed in order to avoid the annual license tag turmoil."

Total motor vehicle registrations in the United States hit a new high record in 1937, almost reaching the 30,000,000 mark.

Inheritance taxes of $14,498,976 in Pennsylvania and $15,620,793 in New Jersey were paid by the estate of John T. Dorrance, president of the Campbell Soup Company, Camden, the third and final accounting of the estate at Mt. Holly, N. J., showed Friday. Total value of the estate was put at $127,808,321 in the accounting which was accepted by Judge Frank A. Henderson in Orphans' Court.

A Plug and Fly Casting

Contest will be held at Willow Grove Park Lake, August 27. Members of clubs and families affiliated with the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs are invited. Elaborate prizes will be distributed to winners.

Alert and capable men are on the job. Directly, or through OUR TOWN, they will be greatly helped by citizens' expressions as to what should be done eventually and what should be done now, that Narberth's residents and their children may receive the best value for their local and national tax money.

L. M. Building

Permits Issued During July
Totalled $181,635

The largest house authorized is a $55,000 structure for Barclay H. Warburton in Bryn Mawr.

Second largest operation is four single family houses being erected on the south side of Grasmere road west of Bryn Mawr avenue, Cynwyd. The houses are estimated to cost $8000 each for a total of $32,000.

A $27,000 house is being built on the north side of Gatecombe lane east of Carisbrooke road, Bryn Mawr, and an $18,000 house is being erected for Henry P. Knight on the west side of Youngsford road north of Waverly road, Gladwyne.

Alterations and additions amounting to $16,549 are being made to the old Academy School, Cynwyd, for the Lower Merion School Board. The building will be used by high school domestic science classes.

An $8000 house with garage attached is being erected on the west side of Rosedale road north of Overbrook Parkway, Overbrook Hills, while another $8000 home is being built for Lee Hagerty at 488 Montgomery avenue, Haverford.

A single family dwelling is being built for Cleason B. McIlhenny on the east side of Williamsburg road, Ardmore, at an estimated cost of $8500.

Karl R. Dorries is erecting a single family dwelling on the south side of Harrison road, east of Pennstone road in Bryn Mawr, at a cost of $14,900. A house with garage attached, estimated to cost $10,235, is being built for William J. Quinn at 30 Overbrook Parkway, Overbrook Hills.

Reckless Walking is Blamed for Fatalities

Pedestrians comprised one-half of the 10,863 persons killed in automobile accidents in Pennsylvania in the past five years, Secretary of Revenue J. Griffith Boardman announced Wednesday.

A special 5-year study of motor vehicle fatalities just completed by the Bureau of Highway Safety emphasizes the extreme hazard of walking on the roadway especially if the pedestrian is not alert and watchful for his own safety, Boardman said.

The survey covered the years 1933 to 1937 inclusive, during which time 10,863 Pennsylvanians met their deaths as the result of 276,654 automobile accidents.

The gravity of the pedestrian problem was thrown into sharp relief by an analysis of these figures which show that one-half of all the people killed by automobiles were pedestrians. And this is in spite of the fact that collisions between cars and pedestrians constituted only 22.5 per cent of all automobile accidents.

In competition with every other State in the Union, Pennsylvania has been awarded the National Graddick Trophy, for the best portfolio of activities in connection with National Air Mail Week, May 15-21. This announcement was made Monday by Joseph F. Gallagher, postmaster of Philadelphia, who was State chairman of the National Air Mail Week Campaign in Pennsylvania. The trophy was donated by Charles P. Graddick, superintendent of the Air Mail Service.

Chairman James F. Torrance Directing Drive for Republican Registration

The Republican drive for registration of voters, directed by Chairman James F. Torrance, of the Republican State Committee, is serving a most useful purpose. Believing that every citizen in the State should make use of the right to voice opinion as to how government should be conducted, Mr. Torrance is carrying his drive down to the smallest political subdivision in the Commonwealth.

Figures of recent election and primaries in Pennsylvania disclose an alarming extent of evident lack of interest in governmental conditions which are causing such widespread criticism.

The interest of Pennsylvania voters has been up and down in recent years. This is not only true in Pennsylvania, but is true throughout the country. The Presidential election in 1936 brought out the record-breaking popular vote of 45,814,377. This was six millions greater than the vote polled in 1932, the previous record.

In 1936, it was estimated that there were 4,945,000 Pennsylvanians eligible to vote. Only 4,138,879 of this number voted, however.

In 1937, there was still less interest. Only 4,039,059 Pennsylvanians registered in all parties. Yet the highest

The Great Reading Fair

The great Reading fair, largest exposition of its kind in the State of Pennsylvania, will be conducted during the week of September 11 to 18, Secretary Charles W. Swoyer has announced. Plans for the most successful fair in history are now in the making and Swoyer and his associates confidently believe the all-time attendance record, established last year, will tumble by the wayside in September. In 1937, the fair at Reading attracted 264,000 patrons to rank "tops" among 83 expositions in the State. Boasting more exhibits, finer attractions and greater educational advantages, the fair this year promises to be "bigger and better" than ever.

"Vivacious Lady" and "Three Comrades" Are Due

At Narberth next week. The former, coming Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, stars Ginger Rogers and James Stewart, and is an outstanding dramatic comedy. As for "Three Comrades," its screen version was adapted by F. Scott Fitzgerald from Eric Maria Remarque's celebrated novel, and has for cast, such headliners as Franchot Tone, Henry Hull, Lionel Atwill, Robert Young, Robert Taylor and Margaret Sullivan.

Showing at Narberth this week-end is "Yellow Jack," highly interesting story of the fight against yellow fever. Robert Montgomery and Virginia Bruce are in it.

EGYPTIAN

In a heart-stirring drama of a woman who loved not wisely but too well, Luise Rainer, twice winner of the motion picture Academy Award, reveals her perfect acting talent as The Toy Wife in the picture of the same name which is playing at the Egyptian this Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, August 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. Laid against the picturesque backgrounds of Louisiana in the 1850's the new drama offers an impressive supporting cast headed by Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young as the two men who figure in the heroine's romantic life.

For a summer-time innovation, the Egyptian Theater in Bala-Cynwyd will introduce a solid evening of travel, Wednesday and Thursday, August 10-11. Showman Joseph Conway, who believes theater-goers will appreciate the home comfort, is pioneering with this program, carefully selected to suit audiences of culture and discernment. Patterned after the Burton Holmes type of entertainment, it consists of Traveltalks by James Fitzpatrick, the most popular traveler in moviedom.

Hedgerow Theatre

Monday starts the fourth and last week of Hedgerow's fifth annual Shaw festival:

Monday and Tuesday—The Simplicity of the Unexpected Isles, Hedgerow's latest play, added to the repertory on the playwright's birthday, July 26.

Wednesday—Arms and the Man.
Thursday—You Never Can Tell.
Friday—Too True To Be Good.
Saturday—Saint Joan.

Civil Service Examinations

E. H. Jennings, Ardmore secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board of Examiners, announced Tuesday that the Commission planned open competitive examinations for three jobs in the Bureau of Home Economics. The positions are those of assistant home economist at a salary of $2600 a year, junior home economist at $2000 a year and junior in home economics information at $2000 a year.

times at the plate over the week-end. He collected for three out of five at Berwyn and banged out three doubles and two singles in the Coatesville rout. Harry Fox also banged three two-baggers out of six attempts Sunday. Bill Reynolds, who did most of the pitching, and George Gazella contributed two doubles each. It was just one of those games when Haupt, a usually reliable pitcher, just couldn't miss their bats.

Nickie Myers poled a home run with the bases bare in the third, while Claude Bailey and Eachus had triples. They also connected for a double apiece, as did Myers, Bud Walker and Mike McGarry.

his too anxious hands. With two outs in the ninth, and two strikes on the last batter, John sent the wrong pitch down to catcher Jim Dykes and yielded a single. Jim incidentally fielded sharply and ended a dangerous opposition uprising when, with bases loaded, his quick peg to third caught a base runner day-dreaming.

Nor were hits too plentiful on our side of the ledger. Our total was only four—two doubles by Charley Dykes, and singles by George Paine and Ross Collins.

Yesterday was "Casco Day" in what we justly call our nearest town. This is traditionally the biggest day on the local farmers' calendar. Athletic contests, ox-pulling, horse show, square dance and colorful midway. Our main contribution was a number of entrants in the swimming meet, in which local camps and residents competed. It's a bit ironic to call it a "contribution" since we came away with a majority of the prizes. Winners for the Lodge were: Blaine Rawdon, three firsts in the 14-year-old freestyle, backstroke, and 17-year-old freestyle; John Carlson, first in the beginners' class; Rhys Thomas, first in the 10-year freestyle, and Bill Spooner, first in the 12-year freestyle. Second place ribbons were won by Isaac Kershaw, Ted Friel, Bill Shanklin and Ken Clancy.

Joe Perry, Bob Hayes and Bob Narrigan carried off the honors at the square dance held that night.

While somewhat out of season, we still enjoy frequent sessions of basketball. Last week we had an opportunity to test out our "Lower Merion system" with Camp Zakelo and broke even in two games. The Juniors lost 28 to 22, but our invincible Seniors replied with a decisive 42-8 victory. Bill Jones, Chic Stoudt and Paul Holgate romped the floor and put up a good fight for the youngsters, and big guns for the older team were Len Jones, Joe Clausen and Ted Collins.

RANGERS AT CLOSE RANGE

Herman Schaeffer (Philadelphia net star) and Dick Blue constructing an amateur deep-sea-diving helmet and pump line for explorations of the lake bottom. Chic Dawson and his trip pump is trusted with the air supplying department. The boys deny they have a secret tip on lost treasure, insist they are just curious as to what it would be like to be born a fish.

Kent Roberts improving daily on the rifle range.

Russ Graham learning to beat a genuine Indian tom-tom, purchased from genuine Sioux and Penobscot Indians who dropped in on us last week. The visit included a demonstration of tribal war dances.

Jack Middleton teaching his latest addition to his miniature menagerie (a frog) to imitate a seal.

Bob Meehling leading the weight gainers with an increase of eight pounds, and Bill Thomas topping the height gainers with one inch for July.

Harry Middleton giving an effective imitation of Edgar Bergen at Stunt Night, until McCarthy's voice was revealed to be that of Bob Reed under the desk. Bob Narrigan giving convincing impressions of "famous school teachers I have known" at the same show.

Mr. and Mrs. (Joe) Clausen, the (Dick) Longakers, (John) Carlsons, and the (Blaine) Rawdons up for a brief respite from city heat waves.

The whole camp learning of the stars tonight from Dr. William L. Holt, widely-known authority on the heavenly orbits, and member of several prominent astronomical associations. Lantern slides (indoors) and a powerful telescope (outdoors) had us all talking in "million light years," "nebulae," and "constellations."

Don Rhaesa, Burt Davis and Dave Alburger turning the telescope on Camp Arcadia (for girls) while the professor wasn't looking.

See you next week.

S. PALMER READ.

Crematory Service Available

A modernly equipped crematory and chapel has just been completed by this long-established cemetery. The building was designed by Frank R. Watson, well-known church architect. This equipment was added in response to requests. The chapel makes possible a dignified service away from wind and rain and glaring sun, in harmonious surroundings with soft music. The cost is very reasonable.
